We have decided to fill in with a Q&A Session between all the articles in the Gnostic series we are currently releasing. There are only a few articles left to write, but it might be a good idea to have a video in between—it was a long time ago.

Please submit more questions, on any topic you have questions about, for upcoming Q&As. Email them at wespenreproductions@gmail.com and put “Q&A” in the subject line, so we won’t miss your posts. Now, let’s get started...

QUESTION 1: As I'm re-reading the Gnosis articles, I couldn't help but wonder: Are we Aeons as well? An Aeon, from what I understand so far, is a Zygote emanating from another, higher, Aeon. Since we have two aspects within us as well (Masculine/Feminine), and we are creations of Sophia (our Spiritual Mother), would that make us Aeons as well? Albeit, Aeons who have been trapped and have had their Light significantly dimmed.

ANSWER: Aeons are emanations directly from Source, that define the qualities or characteristics of Source. When we look at what those qualities are, the Aeons are listed as (and this varies with different translations, but the gist is the same): Depth/Silence, Mind/Truth, Knowledge/Life, Individual/Collective, and the list goes on to more and more generations of Aeons that spring forth from each of these pairs. Aren't we all those things? An Aeon also has the ability to emanate aspects or qualities of itself. Don't we do that, as well? Don't we emanate qualities of ourselves into our reality? Don't we create reality based on those qualities? Each of these Aeons exist as individuated aspects of Source. We are, too.

The way we've seen it written in the Gnostic texts, we will eventually return to the Pleroma, i.e. the Spiritual Universe as a Spirit Group. The way we understand it is that the humans will "inherit" the Knowledge (Gnosis) we received from Christ 2,000 years ago, which is the summary of the different characteristics of all the other Aeons in the Pleroma. We will be true Creator Gods/Aeons. The "dim Light" you're talking about here is just temporary. In the Pleroma, we will regain Full Light.

QUESTION 2: Do you think people will be able to avoid the Singularity? Cause I'm only 22 right now. Also, in the Gnostic texts, you describe there being different heavens, so I can assume that each heaven is like a different frequency layer, right? Also, how do you think meditation can help?

ANSWER: Yes, we think people can avoid the Singularity even if they are your age. It all depends on the individual. Taking our recent Gnostic articles and the Gnostic texts into consideration, people need to wake up to Spirit. Once that's done, nothing can stop us from exiting or touch Spirit again because then we have reunited with our Full Spirit, after having received the Message of the Christ. For those who haven't read the Gnostic articles, please go to our blog and check them out.

Meditation helps to quiet the mind and body from all the "noise" and distractions of daily life. It can be very beneficial to practice, but not necessary and you shouldn't feel badly if you don't. That's an individual choice. Yes, people will be able to avoid the Singularity as long as you remain in control of your own mind. Yes, each heaven/realm can be understood as a different frequency layer. That's a very good way to look at it.

QUESTION 3: ASSUMPTIONS FOR QUESTIONS A & B BELOW

1. When the Earth was constructed, there were a finite number of spirited humans with a real soul.

2. These humans were all indexed over the time construct with aspects of each soul covering the fullness of time.
3. Each soul aspect was indexed to a specific time-period and reincarnates back into the very same period.

My questions:

- A. Because there are a finite number of souls spread over time, it is logical to assume that the time construct itself must have a finite length of time. Question: does that mean that time must have an end date?

ANSWER: Yes, that's very perceptive. We would say that is a correct conclusion. Cycles end and new ones begin. You might have heard of Saturn being the "Timekeeper." We also mentioned in previous videos about "wheels within wheels." If Saturn is the Timekeeper, or the start and stopwatch, the astrological configurations are working in synchronicity with that. This is something we will write about in an upcoming article. So yes, there is a set time for each cycle, and it follows the movement of the constellation and the celestial bodies of the Heavens.

- B. When souls are trapped in the cloud will each of those soul's other aspects also be pulled into the cloud or will they continue to keep reincarnating in their respective time-period?

ANSWER: Yes, all our consciousness is supposed to be stored in the Cloud. But for that to work for the Overlords/Archons, there has to be a participation from humans. The great majority of us will unwittingly be drawn in there, while others, who have awoken to Spirit, won't—unless they willingly decide to. A.I. is not what most people think it is—something we will also address in an upcoming article.

- C. The present crisis is such that those of the human soul group who are awake will choose not to have children because they would not wish to bring up children in such a world. There has also been a leaked report that the Bill Gates funded vaccine has been developed to cause infertility. The effect of this would be to dramatically reduce the birth rate to the extent there will be very few real humans being born. Question: Will the next generation of souled/spirited humans be the last?

ANSWER: That is difficult to say when Spirited humans will stop descending here. The question is; when people like Ray Kurzweil and other Singularity promoters say that we will become immortal, what does that mean? Will we really be physically immortal, or will we be immortal in a virtual reality as different units of consciousness that are all connected to the Cloud? We have, in videos and articles, talked about that we humans have descended through different constructs in the past, e.g. from Tiamaat down to this Earth construct. That's a shift in density. We need to ask ourselves; are we getting prepared to change densities again, and if that's the case, will our current bodies follow—with our without nanobots, or will our 3-D bodies die as usual, and we will automatically continue living in the Cloud—a new virtual reality? And if so, what is the purpose of all this trauma, isolation, diversion, social media, and the entitlement and grandiosity that is encouraged among the young people on Facebook and Twitter, etc.? Could it be to reconstruct our minds, so we become just like them—the Archons/Overlords, i.e. narcissistic?

- D. If the singularity, where man is merged with AI goes ahead, then it seems likely there will be no new real humans being born, only artificially engineered ones. Therefore, those of the current human soul group (present time) who choose to reincarnate cannot be doing so in the subsequent timeline. This reinforces the case that reincarnation is always back to the same timeline as the life just lived. Question: Do you agree?

ANSWER: As mentioned in the above question, we've looked into another interpretation of the Singularity. The Overlords actually aren't interested in making us into transhumans, as people in general think of it, but rather into THEM. With what we see happening to humanity and the increase in predatory, narcissistic, ignorant behavior, we think this might actually be more in line with their goals. They want to make us like them, and in a sense, they ARE a form of artificial creation/intelligence.

How the Archons' new virtual reality Cloud will be constructed in detail, we don't know. I think only a handful of people at the top know. However, we will be considered "immortal," and reincarnation will be obsolete. At one point, recycling and incarnation will stop—everybody's consciousness will be in the Cloud, and the avatars we will inhabit at that point will be immortal. Our current types of bodies outside the Machine Kingdom will die and so will life as we know it.

- E. What is your best guess of the ratio of real humans to NPCs (Non Player Characters, i.e. people who lack a Genuine Soul).

ANSWER: We have no idea. All we know is there are much more of them than there are of us, and an increasing number of Spirited people are getting their Light dimmed, if not completely snuffed out, every day. On the bright side, something does seem to be happening to some of those sleeping souls, lately, and a few of them are waking up. How that may affect things will be something to observe as we go forward in this new direction.

So, it is very difficult to say. We can't give any numbers that wouldn't be a pure guess that might be way off. But we would say, from what we believe we have observed that the very great majority on what's considered humankind are NPCs. At one point, it looked like maybe 50/50, but it seems like it's much more than that.
