

Gnostic Musings #2: The Singularity Deception

by Wes Penre, July 17, 2020

A few years ago, I wrote a book called, “Synthetic Super Intelligence and the Transmutation of Mankind,” which can be found in the e-book section of our blog at wespenrevideos.com¹. There I laid the groundwork and explained in detail what Artificial Intelligence and the Singularity entails on a technological level. On a surface level, what I wrote in that book is what is being prepared for, and that’s what is presented to the world.

Two carrots the Elite are using to seduce us into accepting the Singularity are immortality and super-intelligence (“artificial knowledge”). They are using spokespersons, such as Dr. Ray Kurzweil and Dr. Michio Kaku, to promote the new technological era to the public, and the majority of people either enthusiastically look forward to a future like that, or at least, they don't mind it.

¹ <https://wespenrevideos.com/2020/05/28/3319/>

Gnostic Musings #2: The Singularity Deception

Dr. Kurzweil has mentioned that he is very eager to get the Singularity in place as soon as possible, also referring to that he is not getting any younger, and he doesn't want to die before he can get immortality through technology. He is an atheist and believes he otherwise only lives one lifetime, and that's it. He connects consciousness as being a product of the brain—in other words; consciousness is a physical thing that disappears together with the death of the physical body.

Even people like him, working for the agenda, are being deceived because they are not given the full picture. Kurzweil's vision of the Singularity is only a front story, and he probably has no idea that he's being used.

If we put all the research that I and Ariel have done, a completely different scenario emerges.

There is no coincidence that the Elite calls it the Singularity. It is a scientific term, and this is a relevant part of the definition,

According to the "cosmic censorship" hypothesis, a black hole's singularity remains hidden behind its event horizon, in that it is always surrounded by an area which does not allow light to escape, and therefore cannot be directly observed. The only exception the hypothesis allows (known as a "naked" singularity) is the initial Big Bang itself.

--The Physics of the Universe

The above definition is good because it perfectly describes what is really going on. Many people have heard about black holes, the event horizon, and perhaps even that there is an area where light can't escape. This is highly metaphorical for the technological Singularity we are heading toward that is almost already in place. "Light" in this metaphor is Spirit. They are collecting our consciousness/soul energy in an A.I. Cloud or a supercomputer, so they can have full control over our thoughts and beliefs. This is one part of it, but there is another part, which is even more important, and that's the last sentence in the above quote.

Gnostic Musings #2: The Singularity Deception

We have all heard about the Big Bang theory. What was the Big Bang? Those who have read our Gnosis Series articles² know that it was Sophia (the Queen of the Stars in the Wes Penre Papers) who created the material universe in which we live. As conveyed in the Gnostic texts, Sophia first created the Universe inside herself—in her mind, you could say—but she created it without her consort, i.e. the masculine side of her androgynous self. Therefore, what came out of her creation was not at all what she had intended. She then “cast” her creation away, “outwardly,” which created the Universe we live in. This is the Big Bang. Scientists, who support the Big Bang theory, talk about an initial little “dot” of light from which the Big Bang emanated and threw out energy, like an explosion. The little dot of light was the Aeon Sophia, and the Big Bang was her “casting away” her creation.

I watched a short video the other day, which explains the Big Bang and the Singularity from a scientific perspective but watching it with the higher Spiritual perspective in mind can be very enlightening. We highly suggest that you watch it, too, in order to see the connection with what we’ve learned in the Gnostic texts. The video can be found on YouTube: https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=jsyDIITHEP0&feature=emb_logo.

Now, let’s review the last sentence of the quote I used above,

The only exception the hypothesis allows (known as a “naked” singularity) is the initial Big Bang itself.

--The Physics of the Universe

Here it says that the initial Big Bang is called the “naked” singularity, and with Sophia in mind, this becomes quite interesting.

In the Wes Penre Papers (WPP), it’s written that the Overlords (the archons in the Gnostic texts) are preparing an invasion of Orion (the 8th Heaven), and that they will do so by riding our Avatars (souls) when we are returning to Orion. In other words, they are planning on taking Sophia’s “seat” in the Upper Heaven and become kings and rulers of the 8th Heaven. They will use us as shields and “foot soldiers” in this potential “battle.” But when and how will this happen, and what does it have to do with what we've discussed thus far in this article?

² <https://wespenrevideos.com/category/gnosticism/>

Gnostic Musings #2: The Singularity Deception

In the Gnostic text, "On the Origins of the World"³, the last section is called, "The Consummation of the Age and the Apocalypse." In that section, Christ, via Yeshua, is telling his disciples how the End Times will unfold, and how Spirit and souls will be retrieved and return to Sophia and Orion, respectively. After that, Yaldabaoth (En.ki) and his archons will be thrown down into the Abyss, where they will fight against each other and feed from each other until they are depleted. Then, Yaldabaoth will destroy his own archons, and last, he will utterly destroy himself.

This is not the outcome Yaldabaoth and the archons want, however, because that would result in their own demise.

With all the new information we have, and after having crosschecked it with the WPP and other sources we have collected over the years, the Singularity scenario now makes a lot more sense on a higher, metaphysical level. As you may have noticed, the covert agenda of the Elite, and above them, Yaldabaoth and his archons, is not so covert anymore, and things have escalated a lot during the last few months. As I wrote in the WPP, the archons are desperate, and they know they don't have much time—they understand that the Consummation of the Age is near, and they need to quickly fulfill their agenda, or they are doomed. This is why we see so much confusions and the many contradictions when it comes to the current "virus," vaccines, censorship, and everything else that goes with it. It's like they don't care anymore whether or not we see through their plans. More and more people are waking up, and our adversaries are racing against time. We also need to take the Apocalypse into consideration—people are waking up, and the light that is being spread in this construct reveals what's been hidden in darkness/ignorance, and hidden agendas are being exposed because of this, as well.

Yaldabaoth and his cohorts are desperately planning for the Consummation. They know that just before it happens, Spirit and the entire human soul group will be withdrawn from the Construct and ascend to the

³ Codex II, Barnstone & Meyer translation: <http://www.gnosis.org/naghamm/origin-Barnstone.html>, "The Consummation of the Age and the Apocalypse."

Gnostic Musings #2: The Singularity Deception

Upper Heavens. Their plan is to be ready by then because as we mentioned in the Gnostic Series, we all have archontic attachments within our physical bodies. These archontic attachments are attached to our bodies via our ancestry/genetic line. Every time we die, the soul leaves the body, bringing all beliefs and archontic emotions and behavior with us. Then, we are recycled again into a new physical body, which through our parents' bodies have the archontic body attachments transferred into the new body.

When we all leave the Kenoma during the Consummation of the Age, some of us will have an open connection with Spirit, while others won't—they will remain ignorant. This is where the sorting of souls is crucial. Although we don't have physical bodies at that time because our souls are being retrieved together with Spirit—not the bodies, we won't have the physical archontic attachments anymore, but those who are ignorant will still have negative emotions, such as hate, anger, envy, jealousy, and all the rest of it as a part of their soul makeup. Those, who are awake, however, will of course have dropped the archontic body attachments, as well, but the difference is that those souls will have Knowledge and Gnosis, and they won't accept bringing negative and reactive emotions into Orion. Souls awake to Spirit can distinguish between what is archontic and what is not. They will be more than ready to let go of all those attachments.

While living here on Earth in our physical bodies, it's impossible to get rid of the archontic body attachments, obviously, but when we become awake to Spirit, we have a choice whether we act upon envy, anger, jealousy, or any other potentially harmful archontic emotions, or whether we transform them into something more creative and positive. Those who are ignorant are not able to do that, most of the time. Therefore, if the ignorant souls would be allowed into Orion, they would bring these archontic emotional attachments with them and destroy the entire Orion construct—they would bring the archons with them into the 8th Realm. Because the vibration is so much higher in Orion, one could presume that the effects of bringing all that negativity in there would be even more catastrophic than what we experience here on Earth. It would soon be a living hell.

Thus, ignorant souls need to be separated out from those who have Knowledge and Gnosis, and the ignorant souls get another chance to get rid of their attachments. If they refuse, for any reason, there is no other choice than to let them go with the archons into the abyss. It's not a punishment—it's up to the soul.

Gnostic Musings #2: The Singularity Deception

Consequently, the reader can probably see the importance in working on ourselves even after we have received Gnosis. One day, when we stand before the gates of Orion, we want to make sure that we are ready and don't stubbornly bring archontic attachments we refuse to rid ourselves of with us into the realm. We need to let go of the reactive part of ourselves. So long as we have bodies, the archontic attachments will remain even in a Spiritually Awake soul, but the transformation must happen here, while we're still incarnated. If we carry a lot of anger—even toward the archons—or other unwanted, reactive emotions, and we are unwilling to let go of them once it's time to enter the 8th Heaven, we will be sorted accordingly, not being able to enter at that time, until we have worked on ourselves in a construct specifically designated to these souls who need more self-awareness.

So, when we leave the Kenoma just before the Consummation, the archons hope, because of their attachment to us through beliefs and archontic emotions and characters, they will get a free ride into Orion, while having us all gathered in one place—the Cloud. All the souls in the Cloud will then act as a “soul army” for the archons. The A.I. technologies we are constantly bombarded with are just tools to finish their work so they can “hitch-hike” with us—that's what they're hoping for. Then, when we enter Orion, they plan on getting in there and take over the entire realm, and thus, they think they will avoid their own destruction.

However, as we've discussed in the Gnosis Series, the archons are ignorant because they lack Spirit. As one of my sources pointed out while I was writing the WPP, the archons don't understand that if they would succeed, they will destroy both themselves and everything else in the process. The 8th Heaven (Orion) is the “Holy Souls Realm,” and the archons don't vibrate on a frequency required to enter Orion. I would assume, metaphorically speaking, that it would have a similar effect as when matter and anti-matter collide, if we follow the scientific model. Archons, human souls, and everything else would “explode.”

So, the question is, will they succeed? We highly doubt it. In an upcoming article, we will discuss how souls will potentially be sorted before the Consummation of the Age is starting, but to Ariel and me it is obvious that the archons can't ride souls who have connected to Spirit, i.e. have received Gnosis, and who are willing to let go of all attachments. So, their hope is to be able to ride on those who still haven't found Spirit within.

Gnostic Musings #2: The Singularity Deception

The Divine intention definitely seems to be to save as many souls from this Experiment as possible—hopefully all of them. However, at the end of the day, it's the soul's decision, based on freewill, that will determine whether they can be redeemed or not, so they can become creator gods in Orion. Souls who don't repent are not allowed to go into Orion—they will not vibrate on that level, and even if they could enter Orion, those who have found Gnosis, and are in tune with Source/the Monad, don't want criminals or souls in Orion, who are not there based on their own freewill. If these souls were allowed, we would probably eventually have the same problems in Orion as we have here on Earth—wars, conflicts, and destruction. But by the time of the Consummation of the Age, all souls who have not woken up will, from what it seems, get a second chance of repentance and redemption.

As you probably can imagine from these musings, it is important not only to wake up to Spirit, but also to start living “in Spirit.” Once we've received Gnosis, i.e. taken the Knowledge, funneled by Christ though Yeshua, and transformed it into our Heart, it's a transformation unlike any other transformation we might have experienced in our life. Once we've received Gnosis, we know it! There is no longer any doubt whether we have or not—we know that we have, and that can never be reversed. Whatever happens in our lives, we still don't doubt the Spirit inside. We will feel what is the right thing to do, we learn more and more how to handle life, how to continue living in this construct, and how to live a more spiritual life, based on spiritual Knowledge, which now will be our Inner Guide. We will never be perfect while still in the Kenoma, but our Inner Guide/Spirit will greatly help the soul to make better decisions.

Orion knows about the archons' plans to invade Orion, and from what I've understood, they are not very concerned about that they will succeed, but there is a small chance that they might create some havoc in their attempt. Although souls will still get a second chance to wake up somewhere separate from the Earth environment, we who are waking up are very much needed to spread light within this construct, in order to wake up as many as we can because not only does that make it easier for Sophia/Christ during the Consummation, but it might also save souls from experiencing more suffering.

Gnostic Musings #2: The Singularity Deception

Because this series of articles is a musings series, we are very curious to know your opinions, conclusions, and questions. Please feel free to express yourselves in the comment sections below these videos. What we write in these articles are our current interpretations and thoughts, but we all learn from each other. Thus, we highly appreciate any feedback you might have...