Before we release our next Gnosis Musings article, we will insert another Q&A video. If you have question of your own, please feel free to send them to wespenreproductions@gmail.com.

QUESTION 1: What does a man who achieved Gnosis live like?

ANSWER: Gnosis means “Knowledge,” and when we’ve received that from the Message of Christ and taken it to heart—not just intellectually—Spirit starts to “flow” through us, and we feel connected to a much Higher Source. Then we know who we really are, what we’re doing here, what our purpose is, and where we’re going. Once we’ve achieved Gnosis, nothing will be the same again, and there is no way back (not that we want to).

With Gnosis, we can clearly see what is of the Kenoma (Matrix) and what are our Spiritual values. We can distinguish between the two, and if we’ve really achieved Gnosis, we consciously start changing our lives and let Spirit guide us. We could say that we become better persons, and our compassion, love, and empathy increases. We also get a greater understanding of others and how they act and react, and why. Some people also feel they want to spread the message in one way or another.

However, the path to gnosis is as individual as the person who is pursuing it. There are no rules, laws, or guidelines. The path must be genuine and sincere for each person, or the necessary growth will not create the change in perspective or shift in the heart/mind, as it is intended to do. The way one man lives according to what is in his heart and mind may not be the correct choice for another man. Gnosis is a personal and inner path that is meant to transform and transcend the heart/mind. There is no rulebook for that. We, as individuals, must make our own. It's part of the process. We know that we are supposed to live with compassion, but do we understand why? The "why" is the important part. If you don't understand and know why you are doing something, then you haven't learned the value of it. That requires a person to experience it, reflect on it, change their perspective of it, and understand it. What creates that process in one person may not be the same as another.

QUESTION 2: You write that this 3rd dimension or the Pleroma will dissolve in the consummation of age and the archons will disintegrate along with it, so does the visible material plane along with unawakened human bodies. I hope so far, I got it right.

[Is] the back-up plan of the archons to create a virtual copy of everyone and everything in the physical plane/underworld to continue their existence there through emulation. How does one – during the lifetime - free oneself from the manipulation through one's virtual avatar and the binding contracts in the background?

I think you mentioned that the artificial soul will disintegrate when going through the grid. Does it also apply to the virtual avatar? Or will the avatar remain active regardless?

ANSWER: This 3rd dimension is not the Pleroma. The Pleroma does not dissolve with the consummation of the age(s). The Pleroma is eternal and the part of us that is eternal comes from that source. We can't really say what the archontic plan is, other than what seems to be a transition into a more simulated state of existence through the advancement of many different types of sophisticated quantum technology (and probably energetic/etheric) programs and systems. An avatar is necessary to participate in any kind of experience/realm/universe. Those who participate in the realm/universe that will remain after the consummation, will have some type of avatar that enables them to do that. What that is and how that “looks” like, we can’t say. The possibilities are infinite. You free yourself from manipulation through (perfecting) your own mind, to the best of our understanding.

At the Consummation, the entire Kenoma (the 7 Heavens and the Underworld) will be lit up with Knowledge and “knock out” the Ignorance/Darkness. The Kenoma will then be a perfect creation and be absorbed by the 8th and 9th Heaven, which is called Orion in the Wes Penre Papers (WPP). Orion will then be considered Sophia’s Universe.

The archons’ plan seems to be to make a digital copy of our physical bodies, so we become “immortal” within their virtual reality. They will also collect the soul energy within this A.I. Cloud, so they can more easily control us on a collective level. They can further manipulate us to see things from their perspective, and because of that, we are metaphysically connected to the archons. Thus, when we will be withdrawn from the Kenoma and return to Orion, the archons hope to be able to “ride our avatars” into Orion. Because they are attached to us when we subscribe to their views and beliefs, they hope to be able to invade Orion through us.

Some humans are so entangled in the archontic deception, serving them, that they can’t get into Orion. Some will choose to go down with the archons, who will be cast down into the Abyss (called Hell Dimension in the WPP) and fight things out down there, until they are depleted of energy. Then, Yaldabaoth will destroy his own archons and then he’ll destroy himself.

There are different levels of reincarnation centers, but if we go through the Tunnel of Light, the soul will be split, and most of it will be harvested, while a part of it will remain intact for the next incarnation, as we’ve understood it.

QUESTION 3: What are some of the main indicators to know if someone is Spirited or not? People that can harm animals and abuse or kill other humans? Full out narcissists and psychopaths? Lack of Empathy and Compassion? Could it be these and more?

ANSWER: We can’t and shouldn’t worry about whether other people are spirited or not. It isn’t a judgement that we (humans) are qualified to make. We aren’t “sitting” at a high enough perspective to be able to see into the hearts and minds of each other. All we can do is observe the actions of someone else and this isn't enough to know someone else. The presence or the lack of any of the things you have mentioned would not be reliable indicators because there are many variables that influence us. All we can really do is "know thyself" (Gnosis) not "others". That's enough to focus on because it's a continuous and evolving process. There are always things we can do to improve. What other people do and don't do is their business.

However, after having studied the Gnostic texts, they indicate that all humans have Sophia's Spirit attached—even psychopaths and narcissists. This is based on a passage in the Gnostic texts, where it says that a physical body in 3-D needs to have Spirit attached in order to be able to be fully animated. In our next Gnosis Musings article, we will address the human mind, which we haven't done yet. However, it's up to each human to make choices in life and throughout our lifetimes. Some choose to evolve, while others choose to dedicate their lives to crime and evil. Of course, there is always trauma involved in being a human, and much of it has to do with our upbringing and our environment. But we still have a choice how we'll react to trauma and pain. Some become very hate- and resentful and can develop psychopathic traits. These people are de-evolving and are falling deeper and deeper into darkness and ignorance. It will be very difficult—if even possible—for those people to ever wake up to Spirit.

So, not everybody will connect to the Spirit inside. We make decisions with our minds, and depending on how sane our minds are, based on our choices, it will determine how close or far away we are from achieving Gnosis.

QUESTION 4: Loved reading [the] W.P.P, so helpful. Gnosis seems too religious; are they saying there are two Jesuses? One good/one bad? If so, aren't we falling for the duality trick once again? I feel most content thinking only of the Queen of Orion; why is that? The moment you bring in the 'J' (Jesus) dude I feel extremely uneasy; is it because of the W.P.P.? I truly felt whole after reading them, [but] now that you have done a 180, I feel left out a little. Are we to believe that Ninurta WILL be given the throne to Orion while the Queen abdicates? And, why is she jumping ship? Is it through guilt/failure to protect her own? Was so happy that the true Universe was/is female orientated and operated; until the gnosis, or the interpretation of it.

Also, when you speak of the end-of-times, I get the feeling it is about Nibiru; all events seem to tell of the same narrative; stars falling from the sky etc. It is estimated that Nibiru will arrive in the next two years. What are your thoughts?

[Also], [t]here seems to be something before the beginning; Gnosis says that there was only nothingness; I get the feeling there was indeed something before Sophia's awareness. Please, if you can, get to that topic as well. There is something definitely there; I can feel it.

ANSWER: It's not that we've changed 180 degrees. The WPP are also Gnostic in nature—it's just an undermined version of the actual Gnostic texts, making it easier for people to understand the dynamic of the Multiverse before digging into the more complicated Gnostic texts. But it's the same story—the Gnostic texts are just an expansion of the WPP.

Like many other people, you might have a problem with certain words and terms, such as Jesus. If a person is not Christian, or has a Christian background they have abandoned, Jesus might have some serious stigma to it. But the Gnostic texts are not religious—they are explaining a cosmic drama that was started when Sophia/the Queen created this universe without her masculine consort. If you read our Gnostic articles and the Gnostic texts themselves, you will notice the many similarities with the WPP. Because a person feels uncomfortable with the name Jesus, for example, it doesn't mean that the Jesus story doesn't have any credibility. It's just been very misunderstood, twisted and distorted in the Christian religion. It's been inverted, asking people to worship a God that is actually whom we could call Satan. There are crucial differences between Gnostic and Christian teachings. If you can get over the stigma, the Gnostic texts will be easier to understand. Also remember; Jesus was not Christian. Christianity came later.

Sophia is not the highest deity. The highest is the Monad, who goes under names and titles, such as "All That Is," "Source," "First Source," "Oneness," etc. Everything that is created ultimately comes from the Monad. Did something exist before the Monad? There is no way anybody will ever know—the Monad is ineffable.

It's not that Sophia is jumping ship. Her mission is to restore her original creation, which was deficient because she created it without her consort (see our Gnostic Series). Then, she can integrate her creation into one balanced universe, which we also call Orion. As soon as that is completed, she'll return to the Pleroma, whence she came, and just like all Aeons in the Pleroma create their own universes, Orion will be Sophia's Universe, overseen from the Pleroma. And yes, Ninurta is the Crown Prince of Orion, and for everything he's done for Sophia and for us, he is being rewarded his own Kingdom—he will take over Orion. The Universe is still feminine because it was created by Sophia. Even Ninurta is androgynous, so we could say that he will become both King and Queen of Orion.

We don't know about Nibiru and if/when it's going to hit. We haven't seen any references to Nibiru in the Gnostic texts.

QUESTION 5: In your Singularity book you bring up "En.ki's gift," and that this was something he left in our DNA that couldn't be tampered with because he didn't fully trust his cohorts, and this so called gift is a big part of the reason for our sudden awakening, mostly during the nano[-second]. I'm reluctant to trust En.ki because one of his true aliases or alter egos is Loki, the Trickster God. What about En.ki's Gift?

ANSWER: The term "En.ki's Gift" comes from Barbara Marciniak's "Pleiadians." They don't explain exactly what that is, but because En.ki/Yaldabaoth has a contract with Orion to let souls evolve, he needs to make sure that happens, even though he wants to delay it as much as possible. The archons, who are inferior to En.ki, can only operate based on the personal characters/attributes they were created with, and it's not in their interest to let us evolve. Therefore, En.ki needs to secure the human evolution.

We want to give a special shout-out to our Tier 3 and Tier 4 Patrons. Your assistance is invaluable for us to be able to continue with what we're doing. This goes, of course, also for Tier 1 and Tier 2. Some of you will be mentioned at the end of this video. To all of you—thank you VERY much!
