

Video 276: The Shape of Sophia's Omniverse

by Wes Penre, October 9, 2021

The video to this transcript can be found on my video channel: <https://wespenrevideos.com>

I have received a lot of questions lately about the shape of the Earth vs. the Universe.

There are lots of theories out there regarding the shape of the Earth, and I have done my best to review the information I have, my interpretations of the ancient texts, taken other researchers into consideration, consulted and discussed the matter with the forum member and researcher, "Sahib," and, of course, pondered my conclusions from my Wes Penre Papers (WPP) years and come to the following present conclusions, subject to revision. It might seem puzzling how those who claim the Earth is a globe can present evidence of this, as well as those who claim it's flat (or a disc). I would say it's because it could be considered both (see the current image on the video screen, or if you read the transcript, the picture is at the top of the PDF file).

I think some people are at least willing to ponder or consider the following theory, which is not complete by any means and needs to be expanded upon, but it is what makes the most sense to me now. Here is my theory:

The universe we live in is egg-shaped, something we find in ancient texts and secret societies, as well, and there are esoteric imagery showing this, as well (also presented as the UNUM image by LPG-C in the WPP, Level 1. See picture on the screen). In our universe, Gaia (the landmass) is in the center, going more or less across the Egg, following the structure of the inside of the “eggshell.” Thus, the landmass is flattish and the egg/universe is oval-shaped, as well as the immediate Dome above our heads, which I will talk more about in a minute.

The original humans, whom I’ve called the Namlu’u, probably started out somewhere on Gaia, which is the complete landmass I am talking about. Above our heads, so to speak, are the Seven Heavens, i.e., the seven celestial bodies, with Saturn “on top.” Above Saturn is the Dome, which is the final solid boundary of our Kenoma universe. Gaia is most likely static, i.e., not moving, but at least in the Kenoma, all celestial bodies, including the sun and the moon, revolve around Earth, with our construct in the center, and Gaia in her entirety is an embodiment of the Mother Goddess Sophia.

At one point, not too long ago, a faction of humanity partook in an experiment within the Experiment, which is what we, as homo sapiens sapiens, experience today. This reality was or became much denser than what we were used to as Namlu’us, and our bodies became shorter and sturdier over time. We also lost our immortality, i.e., our ability to complete things in “one go,” and our lifespan was significantly shortened. We died and were reborn, and I believe there are at least two ways for humans to reincarnate, as discussed in the Q&A #83 video, so I will not go into that here. Simply put and in short, from being Namlu’us, we became homo sapiens sapiens, today’s humans.

Thus, in a restricted area within the giant landmass we may call Gaia, Earth was isolated (again, see picture). Over the Earth is the Dome, preventing us from physically leaving our Earth Construct within Gaia, which stretches way beyond Antarctica and outside the Dome; Antarctica being the landmass that surrounds Earth, stretching around the edges of the disc.

Underneath the Gaia landmass, beneath our feet, so to speak, is the Underworld, which the Egyptian and the Vedic texts, among others, compare with the death and hell dimensions because of the even thicker density. In the Gnostic texts, there are five heavens below, where Pluto reigns.

The Grid surrounds the Dome and the Underworld, and the Grid is the final boundary of the Earth construct, comprising our mass consciousness, and the Grid is held together with technology. In the WPP, I explained that En.ki and his cohorts “stole” Orion technology and used it on us, in this construct. Using this technology, they held the Grid together, and therefore also the homo sapiens sapiens soul group on the soul level. Outside our Dome and Grid is “Orion,” or the Eighth Heaven in the Gnostic texts. This is where Gaia and the Earth are essentially both located. Orion is a loose term for our entire Universe outside the Earth construct, and it is egg-shaped. Outside this Egg/Universe is the Ninth Heaven, written about in the Gnostic Texts. Ancient texts, such as the Vedas, call it the Transcendental Water, and in the WPP I usually called it the VOID. However, it is also true that this water is running through our own Universe, as well, and is part of the life-bringing and life-sustaining process. The VOID comprises innumerable other Eggs/Universes in clusters of twelve, as explained in the WPP, Level 2. Each universe is its own unique Experiment and needs to be left alone to evolve, just like a chicken embryo needs to develop, hopefully without interruption, inside the egg to eventually crack the shell and become a chicken and leave its Egg Universe to enter a greater universe.

In the WPP, I conveyed that even though Earth is an isolated construct, it is still located in Orion. What I meant by that is that our entire universe, i.e., the Egg, is Orion. Gaia, the larger part of the planet, also exists within Orion/the Eighth Heaven beyond Saturn, and the primordial womankind, the Namlu’us, resided somewhere on Gaia, outside the current Dome (and might still do to an extent, now being creator gods). In fact, there are more than one Eden, but I will not go into that in this video. Although this construct was taken over and manipulated by forces with their own agenda to gain power and control and to oppose the Goddess Sophia, we are still living in Orion, although in an isolated part of it. We became separated from the original Namlu’us on Gaia, and became part of these rebellious beings’ own experiment, where En.ki was the chief engineer. He is also known as YHVH, the God of the Old Testament, and under many other names and titles. His consort, according to the Sumerian texts, was NIN.MA, who is a lower dimensional manifestation of the Aeon Sophia, and so are Isis, Ereshkigal, Aphrodite, Ninhursag, Ishtar, Zoë Sophia, and Inanna, to name a few. The Earth construct became a smaller and much denser “copy” of the greater universe, i.e., the Egg/Orion. In other words, En.ki did not create anything new; he just copied what was already created, i.e., Orion and Gaia, and isolated it. Thus, the meaning behind that we, with our five senses and in this dense reality, can only perceive 4% of the Universe. The other 96% comprise Gaia, the landmass, and Orion, our universe. The entire Egg is created to isolate an Experiment, where the Namlu’us, and most likely other beings as well, are allowed to evolve and eventually leave the Egg Universe and go to the Ninth Heaven outside the Egg. According to the Gnostic texts, we then can choose if we want to go back as Spiritual Aeons in the Pleroma, aka the Spiritual Universe, or if more appropriate, we stay as creator gods in Sophia’s Omniverse. We can become Overseers, as conveyed in the WPP, or create our own worlds and Experiments, from what I understand.

To better understand the Earth construct, think of it as an analogy. I will use ants as an example, without intending to make it sound derogatory to us humans. Pretend that the Earth is Gaia, the entire landmass, and you are En.ki. You are watching ants doing their thing in an ant house, and you decide to create your own experiment within the larger Experiment. So, you create a Dome that has, let's say, a circumference of 50 miles. The ants can move freely within these 50 miles in all directions, but to stop them from even realizing they are contained, you create a large area of snow and ice all around the disc that they can't cross, and you call it Antarctica. Now, you give the ants freewill to do whatever they want, and you study them. However, without telling them what to do, you start manipulating them to do certain things you want them to do. By learning how they think and do things in life, you can predict the result of your manipulation because in a sense, these ants are a hive mind. They strive toward a common goal. Now, you have an ant civilization that pretty much does what you want. You are just the conductor, and they play the symphony the way you wish them to.

When we exit the Kenoma/Earth construct, we will have no problems going through the Dome, which is more like a physical barrier to keep us within our physical density. But before that, we go into the astral dimensions and encounter those who are eager to get us back into incarnation. There are those who want us back here because we are not ready to meet the reality of higher vibrations after spending so much time in our density, and they are not necessarily malevolent, but rather Divine beings (see the Gnostic Texts and the Aeon in charge of the Fourth Heaven, as an example). The way I see it, it's the recycling center that is what we call a "trap," because it's under archontic control. Then we have the Dome and the Grid above that. In the Kenoma Universe, we slowly graduate by entering the different Seven Heavens, one after the other, until we reach the highest, Saturn. Then, we are supposed to graduate from the Kenoma. Whether that happens is an open question. But by waking up and increasing our own vibrations, we can bypass the Seven Heavens and go through the Grid above Saturn.

So, when we vibrate higher than the overall mass consciousness of the homo sapiens sapiens soul group in this construct, we are able to go through the Grid, surrounding the Dome. Currently, I believe there are still Namlu'us and other beings on Gaia (again, not to be confused with Earth), able to nano-travel wherever they want inside the Egg Universe, while still being physically incarnated on Gaia. I also believe there are beings who were trapped here when the Dome was created, now living underground. This is why we get sightings of Bigfoot, Reptilians, and other beings people claim to encounter. They are not aliens; they come from underground.

We are Children of Nature and are supposed to be physical beings who can nanotravel the Universe at will. So, physically, we are going nowhere, but stay on Gaia, so long as we remain in the Orion Universe, but we nanotravel the Universe with our minds. Most beings on Gaia, outside Earth, have already graduated, and are not restricted to our boundaries. Evolution of a soul group starts within an egg-shaped, isolated universe, and when the soul group graduates, having had their combined and personal experiences in their particular Egg Universe, they can mingle and share their experiences with other soul groups who have graduated from their universes and can nano-travel through the cosmic highways between the universes. The same thing applies to Orion; it comprises spiderweb-like highways, where souls can nano-travel from one point to another. However, when out in the Greater, Ninth Heaven Universe, it is illegal to disturb and interfere with a soul group that has not yet graduated from their Egg. So, there is nothing wrong with our universe. The only difference is that “En.ki” created an experiment within the Experiment, which was not what was expected. If anything, he should have created his experiments outside this Egg Universe if he were able to leave, but not inside it. However, once it was done, rules were set up, so we still are able to graduate. However, there are strong indications that this entity we call En.ki/Lucifer and his rebels have another intention, which is to take over the nano-universe, i.e., the part of the universe/egg where the soul travels, and thus be in control of the entire Orion/Universe.

The universe is material and metaphysical, which means that we will still have bodies, staying within our egg/universe, unless we’re ready to graduate from the Egg (Orion), but the souls can nano-travel freely across our universe and “shapeshift,” i.e., manifest as they please in confrontations with other souls on potential other planets, stars, or on the highways of the Orion Universe. Deceased humans do the same thing; those who don’t go to the recycling center can manifest in front of others. We can read about this in many different literatures. Often, they manifest the way they looked like in their most favorable years while alive on Earth.

Let’s compare this with the Gnostic texts and the Consummation of the Age (Aeon/Eon). In “On the Origin of the World,” we are told that at the time of the Consummation of the Age, the Kenoma will implode and be absorbed and become one with Gaia again, if we correlate it to this, my theory. Already at the time of its writing, this Gnostic text indicates that not all souls will have graduated at the time of the Consummation, but the Kenoma, i.e., our “egg,” will cease to exist, which would mean that the so-called Archontic En.ki experiment is over. And that is what is also told in the Bible, but in other words—whereof the Resurrection, the Book of Revelation, and the Book of Daniel are parts.

This means, we will of course lose our physical human bodies, and those who are ready and wish to do so will go back whence they came as souls, wherever that may be for each one of us. Some will go “home” to the Spiritual Realm via the Ninth Heaven and become Aeonic in nature, while others will stay in Orion and remain creator gods, i.e., minds within a soul. Will we then gain new physical bodies? At this point, I do not know, but it makes sense we will. However, we will not be amnesiac, and we will most likely again become androgynous.

This is a very general and over-sweeping concept I am presenting here. Much more can be said and pondered over, which I encourage everybody to do. There are questions still not answered, but currently, this is the expanded view I have on Sophia's universes, and more expansion is needed. More videos on this and similar subjects will most likely be made in the near future. Please feel free to discuss this in the comment section to this video or on my forum.
