Now, when the new forum is up and running at wespenreboards.com, I can more consistently start making videos again. I am not done with my research on the Metaverse and the Singularity yet, but I think you might find this video interesting—particularly when it comes to exiting the Grid and creating our reality.

In Quantum Physics nothing exists until it's observed. Dr. Tom Campbell¹ (quantum physicist, Out of Body Experiencer [OBE], and once working closely with Robert Monroe) went so far as to say that the Universe does not exist, either, until it's observed. Besides what is theorized in Quantum Mechanics, he also argues that because everything is energy, and creative energy comes from the soul, it would be a waste of energy if the Universe was still energized and "existing" when you did not observe it.

The same thing applies for me when I sit here in front of my laptop. What is happening behind my back? I don't know until I turn around, but before I turn around, what is behind my back does not exist, according to Quantum Physics; it's not energized into existence in my inner universe. We recreate it in our own minds when we observe it.

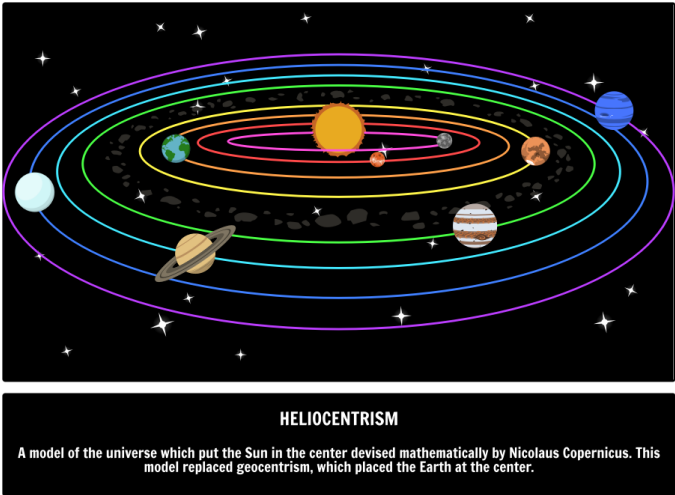

On a quantum/nano-level, the human soul group is connected with each other in a gigantic network—the Grid. What one creates therefore can be observed by others because of this connection. It becomes a "common reality." But for the individual, only what he/she focuses upon at the moment will be energized by that person, who then can observe it and interact with it. Creation is just a "mind game."

"Just look at us.
Everything is backwards.
Everything is upside-down. Doctors destroy health, lawyers destroy justice, universities destroy knowledge, governments destroy freedom, the major media destroy information, and religion destroys spirituality."

"The system was never broken, it was built this way." cliché

Do you see now why it's so important to detach from this distorted reality, where everything is inverted? Do you see why it's important to disconnect from the Grid and create our own "holes" inside our minds? How do we do that? We disagree and refuse to participate in this game, and by having this attitude, we incrementally increase our vibrations/frequency and can then operate on a higher energetic level than the common human soul group. Therefore, we can see holes in the spiderweb and choose to go through these holes rather than stay connected with the web (the Grid/the homo sapiens sapiens soul group).

Expanding on this, we can see how mainstream science, and importantly, astronomy and astrophysics, promotes and emphasizes the heliocentric universe and the NASA model of how the universe looks like. If they imprint their version of reality in people’s minds already in school and ridicule all freethinkers, who use common sense and critical thinking, that will be our “common false reality.” Having amnesia and not knowing who we are, we create this false reality together within the entire soul group, and now we have a heliocentric worldview.

Again, the EL-ite created a reality for us, and we chose to play in this reality. Now we believe everything the Game Makers say, and they can change the laws and rules anytime (by making new “discoveries” through so-called science, but also changing history as they see fit). However, when we, the freethinkers, try to change the rules so they will instead reflect what is true, the majority of the soul group opposes us because we don’t “play by the rules,” and we threaten the existence of the Game, which is the only reality they know. Therefore, many people get very frightened when we try to point out inconsistencies in the Game. It literally triggers people’s fear of death on a subconscious level, because if we “destroy” the Game, we destroy life, from their point of view. They do not understand that we are calling the human soul group back to life from an existence of death. Everything is inverted!

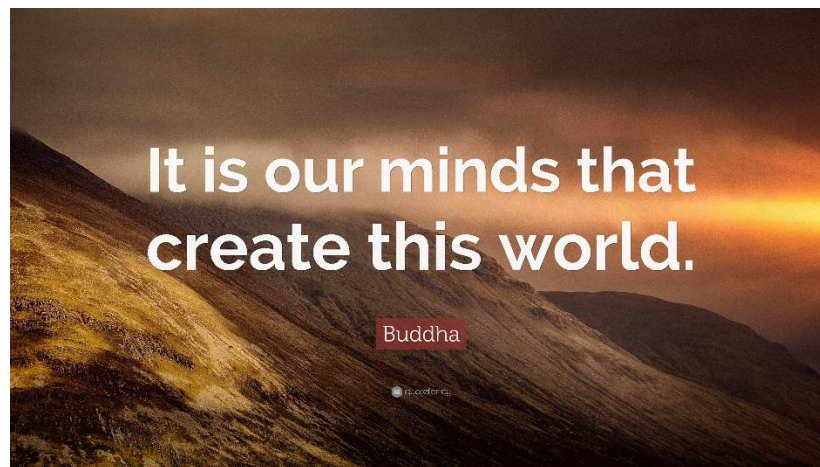

On a quantum level, each individual can decide what to focus on and what not. Of course, what we focus upon will become energized and part of our reality. So, bluntly put; when it comes to Covid and vaccines, it only becomes as real as the individual chooses to be an actor in the play, and it will only affect us to that degree. It is ultimately possible, according to the above information and Quantum physics, to “turn our backs” to what we don’t want to experience, and it will no longer be at our focus point until someone (or oneself) refocuses on it.

This is the scientific reason why I’ve been saying that we must take an “observer’s viewpoint” on what is happening in the world. We have choices on a quantum level. For instance, if we only watch what’s going on, we are not players in the game that most people have “chosen” to play; we are observers.

But if we decide to take a vaccine, we now become actors in the play and will play that game with all the potential consequences. The EL-ite knows this. Thus, the intense media coverage on anything and everything they want people to react to. They are the Global Game Makers, and they create our reality (playground) for us by making things up. Then, they tell us that this is the reality, and they program us intensely through the media and elsewhere, until we “give in” and start playing the game. That’s when the EL-ite, who created the game to begin with, can set, and change the rules at will, and we, the human avatars in the game, will act and react accordingly, and the EL-ite is happy because they get what they want, so long as we play the game.

People have really forgotten they are “creator gods;” we are supposed to create our own games, and only participate in other souls’ games when we want to, out of freewill (not through manipulation, where someone limits our choices by setting ill-intended rules).

We are so codependent as a soul group that we think “daddy” (the Global EL-ite, who are our common narcissists) needs to create games for us, and we are forced to play. No, we can refuse to play, but only after we get informed. Therefore, it’s so important to educate ourselves and learn how this System (Kenoma/Matrix) works and how to bypass it as much as possible.

Taking an observer's viewpoint is like watching someone else playing a video game. The player is fully engaged in the game, trying to avoid his avatars from being terminated, while you stand behind him, looking over his shoulder, just observing, without participating.
