The following is an excerpt from the Wes Penre Papers, the Second Level of Learning. I will post some excerpts from the WPP in a few videos ahead because even those who have read the papers might not remember—it's a lot of information to absorb. I will also comment on certain sections I'm quoting. The original papers can be found at <https://wespenre.com/> and can be downloaded for free.

Quote:

“The first thing we need to understand is that the KHAA, or the Void, is Intelligent Energy — it is the essence of the Mother Goddess, and therefore feminine. Those who say they have experienced the KHAA and explain it as being a ‘nothingness’, but a ‘nothingness of bliss’, without thought, emotions, or any other of the senses we normally are used to, it is just because of that — we are not used to this kind of energy. All people I’ve heard of who have been there, also say it is a place of pure Love — unconditional love. And for it to be that, it can’t be a ‘nothingness’, or ‘neuter’, or it would be totally void of any emotions or sensations. The real ‘problem’ is that we humans, with our limited perceptions, can’t understand the raw Goddess energy, and the above is the best way those who have experienced it can describe it. However, the energy is still feminine.”

[Comment: My research has indicated, contrary to the Gnostic texts, for example, that not only the Greater Universe, which I call Orion, is feminine in nature, but also Source/All That Is/The Monad, whatever term we use is feminine in nature, as well. In Orion, they call everything The Goddess, or Mother Goddess. According to the Gnostic Texts, the Monad is portrayed as masculine, which doesn’t even make sense because feminine always comes before masculine in any creation. Thus, the Monad—the spiritual part of everything—is therefore considered feminine in Nature as well as the Universe we live in.]

I continue quoting:

“If we don’t understand the 96% of the Universe, and can’t even claim to know the 4%, how much do we really understand of reality? And some people say there are no ETs from other dimensions? How can they be so sure, when we, who live in the 4%, are actually the ones in minority? Think about it. Scientists also say we use only up to 10% of our brain capacity (at best). ETs understand this, and like David Icke says:”

“‘Dark’ is only dark because humanity and its technology can’t tune into it and make it manifest in its reality.”

“Barbara Marciniak’s Pleiadians expand on this thought in the book, “Earth,” by saying,”

“... your planet must learn who the Goddess is as a creator. You must. Understanding the dark side of the Goddess is part of exploring her energy, because the Goddess did something to lose her power. It is in the cells of your being because all of you, man and woman alike, have the Goddess within you [...] The Goddess is going to be birthed through you, whether you are male or female. There was a decline and fall of the Goddess for very important reasons.”

“In the Aryan cosmogony, the Feminine Omniverse, which is alive and whom they call ‘The Goddess’, once upon a time created the physical universes as a way to express herself throughout the dimensions. She appointed the Builders, Creator Gods, who then, in service of the Mother, went out and created galaxies, stars, planets, and seeded life on them. But the Life Force in this Universe sprung from the galactic centers (also called the Central Fire) and by rotating in a spiral pattern, life extends outwards toward the fringes. Hence, the oldest stars, in general, should be found in the outskirts of the Galaxy, one would think, but this is not always the case. Stars are popping up everywhere, because they are evolving Creator Gods themselves ready to let others seed life on their own heavenly bodies."

"After billions of years of seeding the Universe, the Aryans had a vast majority of inhabited star systems in the Milky Way and other galaxies joining Orion and the Queen's Empire became known as the Orion Empire, or the ARY.AN Empire, where ARY, or MA.ARY (Mary) means 'Mother', and AN means 'extension of something', or 'Orion, the Heavenly Empire' in Aryan language; hence we have Aryan meaning 'extension of Mother' or 'Aryan Empire'. This is where the names Mary and Mary-Ann come from, the latter also meaning "extension of the Mother". The English language has a lot of Aryan origins to it."

"The Aryans (and most evolved alien races) are not 3rd Dimensional beings like we are, but multidimensional and interdimensional in nature. These are specially designated souls; thus, they don't change because one of their bodies would be killed or die in one way or the other. [To understand this a little better] we can perhaps compare it to the Dalai Lama: when he dies, they look for a new Dalai Lama, who has a new, younger body, but is still supposedly a reincarnation of an earlier Dalai Lama."

"In the beginning, star races were cloning and/or using genetic engineering to create more of their own species. This may sound odd to us but is quite a convenient way to create new vessels for the souls when the old ones in one way or the other is beyond repair. Interdimensional ETs don't die in the sense we do — there is no death. So, if these entities could reproduce through sex, their species would soon be overpopulated."

"... the nebulae and stars, and even the galaxy itself as a whole, is pure feminine energy."

"[Nebulae, stars, and galaxies are created] by sound waves! The Universe is made up by sound [which is vibration]. If you could expand yourself so you [could] see the whole Universe from above, you would be able to hear the symphonies of the galaxies; something I was teaching people from the time I was 14 years old and which I now get confirmed by my research."

"Barbara Marciniak's Pleadians (from here on called 'The Pleadians', plain and simple, to distinguish from Barbara Hand Clow's Pleadians, whom I from now on will call 'Pleadians B') are often talking about the Divine Feminine and Mother Goddess in their books and lectures. Here is an example and another excerpt from Marciniak's excellent book, Earth — the Pleadian Keys to the Living Library:"

“The pain of the Pleiadian experiment has to do with finding a way to appease the Mother Goddess, because it is the Mother Goddess with whom we are all connected.”

“The Pleiadians also talk about the Galactic Center being the ‘Womb of the Mother’, of course referring to the female womb and genitals; therefore referring to the Galaxy, as [well as] the rest of the Universe, to be feminine in nature.”
