Hello and welcome to this Q&A! This time, I have included more questions than usual, and I you'll like. Please send more at wespenre2@gmail.com, and put Q&A in the subject line.

Here are today's questions:

Question 1: In the "THE BIG PICTURE SERIES PART 4 || Where are we Supposed to be Going?" you said: "Where such things exist, these places are not of the Pleroma, but parts of Sophia's, the Queen's, emanations, and the emanations of those who came to be because of Sophia's accidental fall into matter".

Does this mean that the Queen created the KHAA by accident, or did she intend to create it but didn't expect it to develop the way wars and suffering did?

Comment: That video was based on the Gnostic Nag Hammadi texts, which state what you just wrote. At the time, I thought the Nag Hammadi could be viewed as an extension of the Wes Penre Papers, and therefore something to consider. Today, after having more carefully investigated this, I consider that not being the case. Although there is truth in them, the Gnostic texts are written from a Patriarchal perspective, i.e., with En.ki and Marduk in mind, being the Father and the Son. Thus, Sophia, as the Creatrix, had to be made lesser because she is a feminine Source, and Yaldabaoth/En.ki, being the archetype for narcissism, needs to feel he is more grandiose and godlike than Sophia. I no longer believe Sophia's Creation, i.e., the Universe, was a mistake at all, but planned to be a universe of Freewill, just as it is, where star races (souls) could evolve inside stars/eggs, and sometimes on planets. These races could end up either warlike or peaceful—in a freewill universe everything is possible. The reason freewill is the law is because there can be virtually endless experiences, which is the purpose.

Question 2: Is it possible upon body death to create a portal which bypasses the frequency net entirely?

Comment: Not what I'm aware of. Even if you could do that, you still need to bypass the Grid, which covers our realm like a blanket.

Question 3: If there's a physical dome around Earth, then does that mean the images of galaxies and star constellations are all fake? Even so, how is it that NASA even has knowledge of their existence in the first place?

Comment: The stars and the galaxies are real, but they are only 4% of the entire existence. We still don't know what the Dome is made of, but I would imagine it's like a lens, and you can see through it, but it might also reflect back on us. The telescopes usually catch what is in the tiny range of visible light, and NASA is not always telling us the truth about what is out there. However, they have been able to see at least parts of other spectra, too, such as infrared (where they saw the filament, which I wrote about already in the WPP), and ultraviolet.

Question 4: What to do if you have a spouse that wishes to meet up with you again in the Pleroma? As individuals we escape the matrix ... but then how do we find each other after that?

Comment: The next step, after the Matrix, is most likely Orion, aka the "Greater Universe." Even spirited souls will stay in Orion for the time being. It is my understanding that Spirit that is interacting with the Universe does not return to the Pleroma until the purpose with the Universe, or a certain section of the Universe has reached its goal—not including the Matrix, which is En.ki's/Yaldabaoth's copycat universe, not Sophia's direct creation.

If you and the other person have eventually both exited the Matrix, but at different times, you can find each other just by thinking about each other. It might even work if one of you think, "I am instantly going to my friend so-and-so." Because the Universe is thought-responsive, it will take you there, or him/her to you.

Question 5: If En.ki and his friends were taken out somehow along with their recycling center, which would mean when people passed over into the astral, they would not see any false white lights or false guardian angels or spirit guides, and let's assume the grid was still up, couldn't spirits who are aware of the Grid wait in the astral to guide others out? There are people out there speaking on the recycling center, I heard one today say they heard that the recycling center had been destroyed a few months ago and now all souls are free...

Comment: Hypothetically, those who are aware of the Grid could act as helpers for those who do not, and guide them, but in your example that would be unnecessary. If the Invaders were taken out together with the recycling center, Orion would help the souls who are stuck here.

Regarding the recycling center being destroyed, I hear that rumor on occasion. I don't know who started it, but I would be happy to know where this rumor originates, and how that person or persons got their information. What are they basing it on? I would be very surprised if it has been taken down. If you, or someone else listening to or reading this, know where this rumor comes from, please email me at wespenre2@gmail.com.

Question 6: Is the Void inside the grid?

Comment: The VOID is equivalent to the Pleroma—it's the Spiritual Universe, and it is everywhere. It's the unseen 75% (loosely speaking) of the all, in which the physical universe resides, if we use that as a visualization. The VOID is going through you right now and encompasses everything. So, it's inside and outside the Grid.

Question 7: As you stated many times, as above so below, as the Queen dying in this realm, does that mean the Queen died in Orion?

Comment: Queen Elizabeth II and the Orion Queen are not even the same "person." It's not more likely that the Orion Queen would die in such a circumstance as it would if you or I died. And the Orion Queen does not die. She is Spirit, inhabiting a soul that is more or less immortal so long as the Universe exists (souls are part of the Universe, not the Pleroma and made of bioelectricity). The Queen is the Creatrix of the Universe; she doesn't die as soul/Spirit, and neither do we. Because someone here on Earth takes the title "Queen," it doesn't mean she is the Queen of Orion, or even appointed to be her representative on Earth.

Question 8: As to going through a hole in the grid, some are worried they won't find a hole, but some say we can make our own exit hole. This was what I intended to do if I don't see one quickly. I tend to believe that since I have visualized it so much and stated my firm intention and sovereignty to the Universe and Sophia, that it will happen so fast I will just appear outside in seconds... If we are pure energy, and the grid is our energy, how could we be harmed with what seems to be our own pure energy to begin with? Has our energy been changed to form the grid? What is your opinion please?

Comment: In a sense, you can make your own exit hole. In fact, you probably already have. The holes in the Grid start with us and our own vibrations. And you increase your vibrations from within you. But I would not recommend leaving your body after death and then try to create your own hole. The existing holes will be visible, so use those. And definitely don't dive right into the Grid itself. Yes, it's made of energy, just like you, but that energy is around 8 billion times more powerful than you, and you would be electrified to the extreme.
