This series on the Metaverse and the Singularity only touches the surface. Perhaps I will write a second book on this subject soon, where I can dig even deeper into it and help creating a greater understanding. In the meantime, please check out my book on the subject—the book is already posted on Amazon. It's called, "Synthetic Super Intelligence and the Transmutation of Humankind: A Roadmap to the Singularity and Beyond." Just type in "Wes Penre Books" at amazon.com, and you will find it there.

The Internet has been used as a tool to gather information on us all to be used for the Singularity, in order to make our avatars as close as possible to our personalities. And in the process, the Corporations have started to incrementally censor information, preventing us from utilizing our right to free speech.

However, the latest I've heard is that a new Internet is under construction that is separate from the current Internet, and it will be run by the alternative community. Whether this is going to work out, or if it's genuine and honest, I don't know at this point, but I suggest we keep an eye open for it. You can read more about it at <https://qortal.org/>. That is q-o-r-t-a-l.org.

Ever since I wrote the Wes Penre Papers (the WPP), I have highlighted that the purpose with everything that happens now is to prepare for an invasion of Orion, i.e., the Greater Universe outside this Matrix. Whoever is in charge of the nano-world is in charge of the Universe. The soul is of the nano-world—nano meaning a billionth of something, in this case the size of an atom.

And speaking of the Metaverse, the Swedish pop group, ABBA, has apparently been chosen as one of the forerunners when it comes to presenting the future virtual reality. I just watched a trailer, where digital avatar versions of the group from the 1970s are performing on stage. It looks just as real as if they were there in person. Artists have done this before, but now it's been taken to a new level. Just type in "ABBA's Brand New Digital Concert Voyage Finally Opens In London" in the YouTube search engine and you can watch it—it's about 4 minutes long. This is the future after the Metaverse and the Singularity has been put in place, and humanity, in their cyborg form, have their consciousness attached to the Cloud, i.e., the new Grid.

Those who have followed my work and have read at least some of the Gnostic texts know that archontic soul-fires are attached to our human bodies, so the Archons can keep a portal open into our minds and manipulate us from within our bodies. This has been going on for millennia and is responsible for much of our reactive mind and our inner suffering—as Carlos Castaneda said in one of his novels, "they gave us their minds!" So, they added something to us to better be able to manipulate and control us. But this is still not enough for them to be able to follow us out of this Construct and into Orion. First, they must unite us to get complete control over the soul population, so they can attach to us on a mass conscious level, control our thoughts and actions to a much greater extent, and then "ride our Avatars/souls" into Orion and invade it, using us spirited humans as shields and cannon fodder. Most of the evil and sometimes seemingly incomprehensible actions of the Elite we see more and more of has only one common goal in mind—to become immortal Kings of the Universe. They want to destroy Sophia, the Orion Queen, with her own creation—us. And the following is how it apparently is going to be done:

They instigated a plandemic, probably with more of such to come, in order to implement global vaccination. Why this erratic and obsessive push for vaccination? It's because, for one thing, they include nanotechnology in the vaccines that will slowly but surely replace our biological blood cells. The Elite has the technology, given to them by the Archontic forces, the so-called Khan Kings (the AIF in the WPP), to create an artificial body that can host a human soul. This body is then made immortal with nanotechnology, and the soul gets stuck in this artificial, immortal body, which functions as a vessel for soul consciousness to be projected into the Metaverse, i.e., virtual reality, which is the Singularity. As the word Singularity implies, they are aiming for to create a single timeline to which all humans are connected, and on the other end of this is the invasion of Orion. I suspect CERN has a finger in creating this, too.

The gods want to become truly immortal, so they figure that if they completely attach to us spirited humans, they can become us, and they can control us completely from within, through our immortal cyborg bodies. The nanotechnology that will make up our new bodies will make this possible because these cyborgs will vibrate within a frequency band that correlates with the frequency of the Archons. Thus, they have solved the immortality issue. By completely controlling us, they also prevent us from returning to the Spirit Realm because we won't have that desire when our minds are completely controlled by someone else.

So, when the time is right, and the Archons are completely attached, they can manipulate the mind of the entire human consciousness at once, and they can have us leave this Construct all together in one go, and like a giant force of soul energy and spiritual power, we go into battle against Orion. At that point, humans will be more or less completely taken over, and like horses on the battlefield, they are run by the riders—the soldiers on the horsebacks. The horses have little say in the matter.

So, that is what nanotechnology is all about.

Now, what is the solution?

I have stated many times that in order to leave this Construct through a hole in the Grid, we first need to get rid of all the attachments to this world. Many might think these attachments only have to do with loved ones, pets, and material things. That is part of it, but is still not the most important.

Star races in Orion are concerned because humanity has turned into little Archons—we behave like them, and these star races don't want the Archons in Orion, obviously. Therefore, they suggest we should not be let out in Orion in the shape we're in. Again, that's understandable. But I also mentioned that all human bodies already have archontic soul-fires attached, which makes us act in reactive ways instead of being in control of our thoughts and behavior. Thus, our most important attachment to overcome is our attachment to the Archons.

When our bodies die, the Archons detach as well, because they are attached to our bodies and the organs. But when our soul/Avatar/light-body leaves the physical body, we still keep the mindset of the Archons unless we do some work on ourselves. If we don't, we will keep our archontic mindset to a larger and lesser degree, and this is not something they want in Orion—particularly not from creator gods like us. No one wants us to create worlds or whatnot based on an archontic mindset. That will not benefit anybody and lead to more problems. We can't go to Orion and be destructive and reactive.

Therefore, the solution is, as been emphasized before, to do "shadow work." This means to be able to distinguish between the reactive and the conscious mind. Once we learn to really notice when we are reactive before we act on the reactivity, we can stop ourselves and replace the reactive thought and action with something much more benevolent and conscious. In other words, we replace the archontic mind with our own human mind, which is in many aspects the opposite to theirs. This is why I released a couple of videos some time ago on how to reprogram our minds. This is very important! With practice, we will notice that we become more and more in charge of our own minds, and the archontic reactivity subsides and no longer, or at least very rarely, surfaces. If we learn how to regain control over our minds, we don't need to worry about bringing the archontic mind with us into the KHAA/Orion/The Greater Universe.

I have also often stated that in order to exit through the Grid we need to raise our frequency and our vibrations. This is essential, but how do we do it? Through education? Yes, to a certain degree, but the only information that is really important is the information that brings us to the point where we understand that we need to take charge over our own minds and to learn how to exit this Construct. Once we are able to regain control over our emotions and actions, our vibrations will raise automatically because humans are already of a high vibration. It is what has been added to us that has brought us down in frequency. Remedy that, and this is all we need to do, not only to leave the Matrix but to be truly welcome in Orion with open arms. We are creator gods, and we need to learn how to stay benevolent, loving, compassionate, empathic, and non-reactive, i.e., the opposite to the archontic mind. Even Carl Jung was teaching along these lines.

Knowledge is fine, but if we think about it, how much knowledge is there that really gives us a picture of what it is like to leave this Construct and how to do it? Almost all information, even though it might be interesting and exciting, is all about this Matrix. That won't take us out of here. Still, we might need some of that information to get to the essential part, where we concentrate on what will actually set us free.

Ultimately, it's an Inner Journey, as most of us understand by now. We can take in information from outside, but it's useless if we don't process it inside ourselves. The only information that is valuable is information that will make us progress toward a safe exit—not only for us personally, but we also need to take the Orions into consideration, and truly, the entire Universe. We don't want to be responsible for bringing archontic forces into the KHAA.

When you have listened to this video, I suggest you go to my YouTube channel at <https://youtube.com/c/wespenre60> and watch a video called, "How to reprogram our Minds." It is not as difficult as it sounds, and I know firsthand that it works! Also, if you haven't read my information on how to exit the Grid, stay at <https://wespenrevideos.com/> and click on the link, "Exiting the Grid" at the top of any page. There you find plenty of information regarding this.

And remember that we are essentially more powerful than those who dwell in the shadows, aka the Archons and their Minions. That is why they need to keep their agenda so secret. We have just forgotten how powerful we are! Now is the last chance to regain that power before the Singularity hits us. This lifetime must be the last if we are to make sure to avoid the Singularity and all its implications. We need to leave the Matrix after this lifetime!
