
Q&A Session #1, September 2024

by Wes Penre, Sep. 4, 2024

Welcome to a new Q&A and thank you for your questions! Please send more to wespenre2@gmail.com, and put Q&A in the subject line so I won't miss your email.

If you want to check out any of my books, please go to <https://amazon.com> and type Wes Penre into the Amazon search engine at the top of their page. Some books are also in Spanish.

Question #1: Hello Wes, I am asking for a friend who has recently come across your information: "All of your information that you share feels like it is created out of an egoic mind construct/identification with a separate self from the Creator. In Orion do we still have an ego, thus duality? Is there still conflict and suffering? Can one awaken fully and transcend an egoic mind state and be one with Source / The "thing that Sophia came from?"

Comment: The Ego is our personality. Unfortunately, in the Matrix, every time you die, the Khan Kings wipe your memory clean and destroy your personality. Then they recycle you back, and you have to start again from scratch, building a new personality.

When you exit through the Grid, you keep your personality from your most recent incarnation, and also, you start remembering all your other, previous incarnations, too. In Orion, we are androgynous, which means we are both physical and spiritual, since Orion is both. So, we do have an ego in Orion, just like we do here. The next step up from there is the Pleroma—the Spirit Realm. That’s where we were born. Even there, we are keeping our individuality. Much more about that in the upcoming book, “Battles Between Shadow and Light,” which will be published on Amazon in one or two weeks.

Question #2: Its getting unusually hot lately, is it just global warming?

Comment: No kidding, and I don't like it. Global Warming and Ice Ages, droughts and floods are all manufactured by the Khan Kings and their technology. The sun we see in the sky is not the real sun—it's a hub. They can do whatever they want with it because they have their Orion technology.

Question #3: I have a question that I haven't seen the answer to yet. I hope it's not a silly question, but this really hangs on me every day :(

My question is - What happens when our beloved pets pass away? Is it possible for them to escape through the grid? I really worry about my dogs and that they will end up in a terrible place. I explain the process for escaping the grid and the holes to them on a weekly basis but is it enough?

Side note not needed to post online if you answer my question in the Q&A (or take part of it if you wish) - My animal communicator says dogs can understand everything when you talk to them. However when I talk to her about the afterlife, she does not understand the matrix or grid. Before reading your information, I used to tell my dogs not to go to the light and to stay here and wait for me one day. When I told her this she panicked. She said dogs do not see the light like humans do but that humans should never avoid the light

She also mentioned part of my dog's soul will merge with my soul and they will always be with me. It also sounded like she said the other part of the soul merges together with other animal's soul. Any ideas?

Thank you so much in advance,

Comment: We all love our pets. If you've had a dog or a cat, you know you can communicate with them. I agree that they understand much more than most people think. Animal bodies are spirited, too, since Eve/Isis blew spirit into the Living Library. This is why we feel we can communicate with pets and animals. Even wild animals, if they are in trouble, they come to humans for help—even bears do.

What I learned from the Pleiadians is that animals when they die, they go to a "pool" of soul-mind and get reincarnated, similar to us humans. Like us, they have amnesia. However, everything will be retrieved from this construct at the End of Days (The Consummation of the Age), and animals will apparently go to Orion with the rest of us.

Question #4: Humans have 5 basic senses on earth, probably more actually, but presumably many more once we leave this construct. Will we have the senses of smell, taste, and human touch? Clearly, we will be able to hear and see, but it is sad to me we may no longer have the sense of smelling a beautiful fragrance or hug a loved one, or feel the good sensations our bodies can feel here. Since we also are very emotional, will we still have our large range of emotions? I think you have said yes to that in the past. Do we have to incarnate into an experiment that has these senses in a more solid planet to experience these things again? I guess some things will have no meaning and importance outside this matrix, but it's so strange to think about.

Comment: These are good questions, and I must say I don't have the answers. Will we be able to smell and taste? Well, I would probably say no because in the Matrix, we eat meat, veggies, fruits, and whatnot, or we'll die. In Orion, we don't need to eat. That's En.ki's idea that we need to eat. We will keep our wide range of emotions, however, because that's a part of us. Perhaps we can smell, though, since that has little to do with eating.

What you will do when you get to Orion, I don't know. We all have options. You can probably be part of another soul group if you like, but without the amnesia and abuse, or you can be a creator goddess.

Question #5: Hi Wes, I am on page 174 of The Story Of Isis and the War on Bloodlines.

Wes Penre Productions

On page 171 you wrote...

"My contact also said that Marduk had tried to "make deals" with the British royalty, and even tried to conquer England on several locations but always failed; and they "threw him out," as he put it because they "didn't need him."

Was Marduk here on Earth in physical form as a human actually doing this or was he directing others from the astral? And if he was here in an incarnation who was he? And if he was here did the royal family know who he really was? From what I gather he seems very powerful so why can't he just do what he pleases? And if he has access to advanced Orion technology why wait so long to get to the Singularity. Not that I want him to succeed in his plan, just curious.

Comment: Marduk was here in a physical body, and he's here now, too. He is restricted to what he can do because he's restricted under the Law of Freewill. If he breaks that, it'll have severe consequences. It's all about energy, as Tesla said. No one can break universal laws without consequences.

Marduk was Louis XIV of France, and I suppose that was an incarnation when Marduk was thrown out.
