Q&A Session #18, 2026 by Wes Penre, Aug.15, 2026

Welcome, and thank you for your questions! Please send more to wespenre2@gmail.com, including 'Q&A' in the subject line, so I don't miss your email.

Please keep your questions as brief as possible. I understand that sometimes it's not feasible to keep it short when conveying your message. Just doing your best is good enough.

To see my entire book collection, please visit this link on Amazon.com (and then click "see more" at the bottom of the page). Various publishers, including Amazon, have translated the books into Spanish, German, Russian, Polish, and Estonian. In 2026, we will most likely also see my books published in Romanian, one by one.

AUGUST 2026 NEWS:

Starting in July, I decided to publish two Q&A sessions per month, and I will continue doing so.

Thank you for all the questions for this Q&A! Feel free to send more for the September Q&A, as well.

Thank you,

Wes

Question #1: I have some questions. Q1: When Tiamat was destroyed, the souls (human spirits) were captured, correct? Q2: Later, Enki and Isis needed a physical avatar to 'stuff' the Namulu/spirited human souls into, so they used an "antediluvian Cro-Magnon and Homo sapiens, which then became Homo sapiens sapiens—today's humans." Now they had a primitive avatar with a locked-down DNA. Q3: The physical bloodline (RH -) is not the same as the 'spirited human,' the original Namulu race? Q4: Later on, many ET races came and kept adding their DNA to the original human DNA. Why? Somewhere in the papers, I read that everyone was jealous of the Namulu because they could create with their thoughts like Sophia could, but they couldn't as much or not at all? Q5: Is it not as much the bloodline they are after (or is it), but the human soul and spirit? Q6: But isn't the 'soul/spirit' I know—aren't they not the same, attached to the blood cells somehow? And this is when the bloodline comes in? Q7: However, if they used the Cro-Magnon avatar to stuff the Namulu's spirit in, the blood type doesn't mean much because the human spirit and soul that everybody is after, it seems, isn't it?

Comment: Since all these questions could be considered one question with several subsections, I'll reply to them all in one long comment:

Q1: Yes. Most were captured, but some escaped through the Saturn stargate together with Ninurta and some Vulcans from the Lyra star system in Orion.

Q2: Yes, they took an existing human species and tinkered with it to create Homo sapiens sapiens, as we call ourselves today, meaning "the thinking human" (well, I don't know about that...). The Sirians/Archons manipulated our DNA, closed down about 95-96% of it, and added their own DNA to the "new" human species.

Q3: Correct. Regarding Homo sapiens, none of the bloodlines are the same as those before En.ki and his scientists tampered with humanity and created the sapiens species. All bloodlines are a mix of our original Orion DNA and archontic DNA.

Q4: In the early stages of my research, I thought many star races had mixed their genes with ours, but these days I realize that the only ones who tampered with our DNA here on Earth seem to have been the Sirians/Archons. Yes, some star races were/are jealous of us because the 3-UCs are from the Pleroma, and they are not. Also, because humanity has failed a few times under the archontic regime but is still supported and observed by Orion, they think we have more privileges than other races.

Q5: Both. The bloodlines are very important, since they also signify “ownership.” Not necessarily in the sense of master/servant (except in the Archons’ case), but if the Archons can claim we have more archontic DNA than Orion DNA, they can claim ownership of the human soul group because they can argue that they created us, and therefore, they don’t need to set us free.

They also need our souls and Spirit trapped within their Matrix for several reasons. For example, by inducing amnesia, they can instill fear in us, which produces “loosh” (life energy) that the Archons can feed on for their own survival. They also need us for the Singularity, which will lead to an attempted conquest of Orion, using ignorant humans as shields and cannon fodder.

I am almost finished with my new book, which explains the Singularity in great detail: from what will happen next to what will happen long after the Singularity is established—95% of it coming directly from the horse’s mouth. They tell us this every day, but very few have connected the dots correctly. I have done my best in that regard. The final title of the book is The Singularity: The Creation of a Digital Hive-Mind, and it will be available on Amazon and many other platforms and libraries within a month if everything goes as planned.

Q6: Yes, Sophia’s “breath” (Spirit) is attached to everyone’s physical body and operates within the blood cells. In addition, a certain percentage of humanity has a Spirit Spark attached. Although there is ultimately only one Spirit, it sometimes has different origins. The Spark is the Human (Geradamas or Adamas) of the Pleroma (Spirit Realm), who sent his/her Sparks (splinters) to originally attach to the Namlú’u bodies but are now attached to certain Homo sapiens bodies. It’s from Geradamas that we get the information that the Namlú’u (a human with the Spark) was androgynous. We still are, but En.ki divided us into two genders to confuse the matter.

Q7: Correct.

Question #2: In Orion, can we experience other realities like the ones we read, see, or hear about on Earth? I have a deep desire to experience and live in realities like Marvel, Harry Potter, Lord of the Rings, etc. My heart deeply craves living through the storylines of web series like Stranger Things and Friends and making unforgettable memories to cherish for eternity. I also have an inclination toward living as a fictional character. In short, I want to experience myself and this omniverse in its entirety!! Is it possible?

Comment: Yes, it's possible. Here on Earth, we are primarily limited to our five senses (unless we "think outside the box"), but as soon as we leave our container—the physical sapiens body—our minds open up considerably. When we leave this dense "reality" and go to Orion, which offers a much less dense existence, we can become more sophisticated creator gods, i.e., we can create and manifest directly with our minds. The only limit will be our own imagination.

Question #3: I'm interested in one particular aspect regarding Hylics/NPCs.

I know a few people I have been talking to for years about the topics you and other like-minded people write about. Looking into their eyes, it feels as if "nobody is home." That makes me wonder whether they might be Hylics/NPCs, because after all my "brainwashing," I would have expected them to at least understand that physical death is not the end. But even that hasn't happened.

At the same time, these people's lives are anything but happy. That leads to my question: What do you think? Are Hylics/NPCs also capable of producing loosh or otherwise feeding the System/Archons? And if not, then how do they, through their unhappy lives, distract Spirited people's attention?

Comment: As I understand it, Hylics can definitely draw loosh from Psychics (2-UCs) and Pneumatics (3-UCs) alike. In fact, that's what they are mostly here for. They collect our energy by extracting it, and the energy they "steal" feeds the Archons via the Hylics. The reason there are so many Hylics on Earth is that the Archons use them as distractions and to invalidate those who think outside the pure physical box. They often upset the Psychic and the Hylic and sometimes steer them off their spiritual path.

Question #4: Hi Wes, are there judges on Orion? My parents have a palm tree that's very close to my uncle's fence. Some of its fronds were falling onto my uncle's property, but they were only about two meters off the ground. Instead of cutting the fronds, my uncle took advantage of the darkness and sprayed poison on the palm tree, and it's now dying. He did the same thing to two other pine trees a few years ago. Can I sue him when we're all on Orion at the end of time?

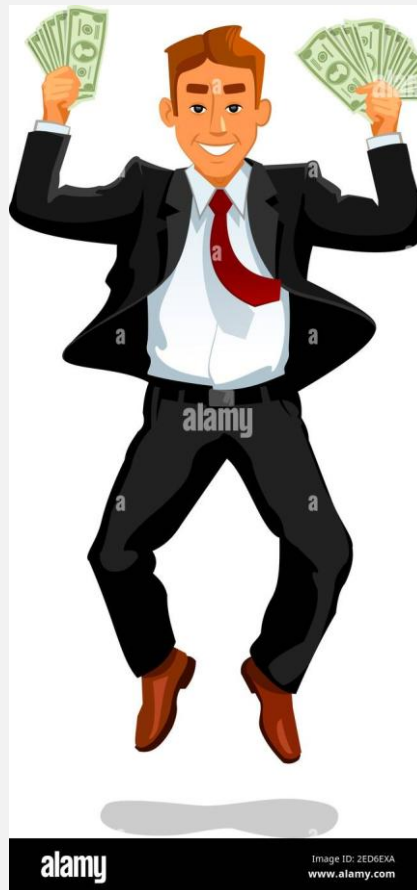

Comment: Wow, I certainly understand your frustration, and I'm sorry about your experience with this uncle of yours. Regarding suing him, I would argue that this is something you'll need to do here on Earth. Yes, what he did was not okay, since, as I understand it, he never asked for anyone's consent to take that drastic measure.

Still, people do unbelievable things in their Homo sapiens form—even "good" people sometimes do. To my knowledge, there is no court system in Orion where you can sue an Avatar for actions taken before they entered Orion. What I've learned is that a human must repent their Homo sapiens existence—not to punish the person, but so they can live a full life in Orion and not spread toxicity in the realm. If a person does not repent, it's questionable whether they will be allowed into Orion until they do, whether in their current lifetime or in a future incarnation, after having developed a new personality.

Also, once you've left the Earth existence behind, you will have no more attention on the tree—only as a memory and an experience, perhaps. The frustration you feel now is very human (and understandable), but it doesn't carry over into the afterlife.

Question #5: Why do some people have so much 'luck' in life while the majority do not? Some people seem almost perfect: great looks, a fit body, high intelligence, bright white teeth, a full head of hair, plenty of money, and so on. Others are the exact opposite. Why are some people born with mental or physical disabilities? Is it karma?

Comment: The attributes you are pinpointing are all due to genetic inheritance. For any other kind of "luck," as life goes on for that person, it depends on the person's choices. Nothing happens by accident or coincidence. We truly create our own reality by thinking our way through life and making choices—proactive or reactive. Every thought, negative or positive, puts us on a path connected to that thought. We can change our minds at any time and choose a path that better suits our wishes and goals. However, the problem most of us have is that many of our thoughts are not even ours. In a previous question above, I argued that our DNA comprises a large amount of archontic DNA, which makes it possible for them to interfere with our thought patterns, emotions, and energy levels.

With the above in mind, there is no karma. Whatever happens in a person's life is because, on some level, they made a choice that led to a logical consequence. If we call that karma, we give away our power to choose and hand it to someone or something else, which diminishes us as creative beings.
